Community-based care for patients with Parkinson's disease

The pilot Temasek Foundation Parkinson's disease Community Care Programme (TFPDCCP) provides holistic care in the community for patients with moderate to advanced Parkinson's disease (PD) and their caregivers, to improve their wellbeing and reduce the need for hospitalisation. Care is provided by trained Community Nurses from Singapore General Hospital (SGH), supported by a multidisciplinary care team specialised in PD. The services include:

- Identify, monitor, and address these patients' medical needs in a timely manner
- Motivate patients to adhere to medical and therapy recommendations
- Train caregivers to care for PD patients at home
- Guide caregivers to manage patients with long-term urinary catheters and nasogastric tubes
- Refer patients to social service providers, where necessary

This service is provided at Community Nurse Posts, conveniently located at Senior Activity Centres, or in patients' homes, if they are not able to visit the Posts. This community-based support aims to complement the scheduled hospital visits and provide support within the community for sudden changes in the patients' condition.

Who's in the care team?

The care team comprises the following SGH healthcare professionals who specialise in PD:

- Neurologist (s)
- Advanced Practice Nurse (s)
- Programme Coordinator
- Community Nursing Team
- Physiotherapist
- Speech Therapist

This service is currently available only for SGH patients living in Bukit Merah, Telok Blangah, Katong, Chinatown and Tiong Bahru.

Please note that this service does not replace patients' scheduled visits to Specialist Outpatient Clinics and patients should continue to see their doctors.
